

Steel Beach Picnics

Imagine yourself ...Drifting aimlessly along with the warm evening sea breeze, live music, and the delicious aroma of food cooking to perfection on the grill. Food, folks, fun...Who can ask for anything more?!

A Steel Beach picnic on the flight deck was always a welcome relief for the crew. It gave them a chance to relax, kick back, and forget about work for a while. Hamburgers, barbequed chicken, potato chips, Coke...it was the closest we could come to home away from home.

Clockwise from Top: 1) MM3 Sparks and FN Gallegos: Chefs in the making!
2) LCDR Alexander, EMFN Powers, and CAPT O'Hanlon enjoy the picnic in civilian clothes.
3) Another night of live music: the band "Shotline" performs again!
4) Mmmm...Looks good! The CNO checks out the chow.
5) "Who's watching the fires in the plant?"
