

SACC

The Supporting Arms Coordination Center provides firepower support to the Marines on the beach. They use all available task force assets to provide that firepower; ships, helicopters and fixed-wing close air support. SACC personnel are in constant communications with the Marine Forces ashore, the Tactical Air Control Center and ships capable of providing Naval gunfire to insure the landing force receives firepower at the right time and right place.

